

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

2018 NAFWS

CHIEF SEALTH AWARD

BIOLOGIST

&

CONSERVATION LAW ENFORCEMENT

OFFICER

AWARDS

CHIEF SEALTH AWARD - This individual should be working in the capacity of a director, manager, leader or similar position. This person is recognized for his exceptional work. This person is someone who has worked to develop their program in the name of fish and wildlife protection, preservation and enhancement or has worked with an agency that has made significant and positive impacts to and in Indian country. This person is someone who has dedicated their life and work to fish, wildlife and natural resources.

BIOLOGIST AWARD - This individual is one who has spent many hours outdoors collecting data and using that information to educate fellow Tribal and agency personnel in the importance of their work. This person is one who works to manage diverse projects for their Tribe. They cover many geographic areas, deal with multiple agencies, use technical skills in gathering and logging information, understand TEK (Traditional Ecological Knowledge) but most importantly promotes the importance of the science to protect fish and wildlife.

CONSERVATION LAW OFFICER AWARD - This award will go to an individual that works in the capacity of a CO, game warden, fish and game officer or in a similar capacity. This person has the training and experience in carrying out themselves in a professional manner while working in an enforcement capacity.

Awards will be presented during the 2018 NAFWS National Conference in Warwick, RI.

Who can nominate: Society members in good standing. How to nominate: Please see the Award Policy for the nomination process. (see here)

Nomination Deadline: April 27, 2018

Where to Send Nominations: klynch@nafws.org